Voters OK 3-Year Millage Renewal

Crawford County voters overwhelmingly approved the school district's request for a three-year 21.15 millage renewal in Monday's election. The request passed 975 yes to 267 no.

Kent Reynolds, school superintendent, said the results are important for the community.

"Grayling is a wonderful place to live in, do business in, and to raise children in," he said. "I think that the people, while they are angry with the legislature for not living up to its responsibility to develop a long range solution for school funding, realize that we have to take care of ourselves as a community." Reynolds said that means making sure our children, who are the future of this community, receive a quality education.

The request passed in precinct No. 1 (Grayling) 824 yes to 181 no, in precinct 2 (Frederic) 81 yes to 50 no, and in precinct 3 (Lovells) 80 yes to 26 no.

Mark Hartman and Rodney Lobsinger ran unopposed for school board four-year terms. Hartman received 884 votes and Lobsinger, elected for his second term, received 759 votes.

Jeep's Illegal Turn Sends Car Into Ditch

Dan Alstott, Director of the AuSable-Manistee Action Council (AMAC), and his wife, Sally, were forced off the road Saturday, June 6, in an accident when an Ohio National Guard jeep turned illegally in front of his car.

According to the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. report, Alstott was traveling eastbound on County Road 612, at about 5:41 p.m. when he attempted to pass the slower moving military jeep. As Alstott began passing the jeep, the driver of the jeep turned left striking Alstott's car and forcing it into the ditch. No one was injured in the accident.

Because the driver of the jeep was unaware that his left turn signal was not operating, no tickets were issued; however, the driver was cited as the responsible person for causing the accident under Hazardous Action No. 6, for making an improper turn by not signalling.

WQON Power Increase Doubles Listening Area

Radio station FM 100 WQON, based in Grayling, has been granted permission by the Federal Communications Commission to increase power to 50,000 watts. The approval caps a two-year application process by Dittmer Broadcasting to upgrade service to Crawford and Roscommon county listeners. It is estimated that the power increase will double the WQON listening area.

Robert Dittmer II, WQON station manager, says it's hoped that the station will be able to sign on with the increased power this fall.

$2,000 in Prizes Kick-off Uptown Celebration June 17

A ribbon-cutting ceremony for the uptown street and sidewalk work plus a drawing for $2,000 in prizes will take place Saturday, June 17.

At 11 a.m. the ribbon-cutting will be held from Mac's Drug Store across to Ivie Girl/Kathleen's Plus Fashions. Afterwards, a drawing for $2,000 in "Walk to Win" prizes will be held at the Grayling Gazebo.

4-H Horse Clinic Set For Fairgrounds Saturday

There will be a 4-H Horse Clinic held Saturday, June 17, at 8:00 a.m. until noon at the Crawford County Fairgrounds. Subjects to be covered will be showing and fitting as well as Horsemanship. Any youth interested in learning more about showing their horse is invited to attend. Participants are asked to arrive at 8:00 a.m. with their horses. The clinic will begin promptly at 9:00 a.m. The resource person for this event is Keith Forbush and will be helped by 4-H Leader Sharon Hadley.

If you would like to participate in this event, you can register by contacting the Cooperative Extension Service at 348-2841 ext. 284 by Friday, June 16.

Summer Recreation Programs Start June 19

The Community Education Office's Summer Enrichment Program for 1989 will begin on June 19 and run through July 28th. Enrichment classes offered include Kids Theater, Tennis, Wrestling, Basketball, Pom-Pom, Baton, and Jazz Dan'zin. There will be two Vacation Playgrounds for school age children only.

For more information call the Community Education Office at 348-7641, ext. 27. The Community School office at the high school began summer hours June 12 and is open at 9 a.m.

Historical Society To Build 1900's Firehouse

The Crawford County Historical Society is planning to construct a replica of a 1900's firehouse on the property adjacent to the museum complex.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners granted permission to build the firehouse on county property next to the railroad tracks. The commissioners, at their May 25th meeting, also agreed to waive the cost of all county permit fees.

Robert Ruddy, museum curator, said the new firehouse will become the permanent home for "Petunia," a 1937 fire engine owned by the Grayling Fire Dept. (The name Petunia was given to the old fire engine because for years it was used to water the city's petunia plants.) The firehouse will be about the size of a two-car garage.

Volunteers from the Grayling City and Township Fire Dept. have adopted the project and will be helping with construction.

Jack Millikin, Inc., has offered to donate the cement for the foundation, and Ruddy believes other businesses and private individuals will support the effort by donating building supplies, money, or manpower.

"I hope when we are finished," Ruddy said, "that we will have a project that will be something our local fire fighters will be proud to be associated with, and somewhere to display their firefighting artifacts."

In other museum news, work on the military museum located in the old white township hall next to the depot is progressing and should be opening to the public soon. This museum contains a barracks room, a supply room, and many military artifacts.

"Everything in the different museums has to be a part of our local history," said Ruddy, "and unfortunately war is a part of our history."

Area Visitor's Council Starts Promoting Grayling

Whatever the new Grayling Area Visitor's Council (GAVC) lacks in experience, it more than makes up for in enthusiasm.

In the four months since the organization of hotel and motel owners elected its first board of directors, it has made plans for the publication of a brochure, contracted for the placement of a billboard, established an 800 number, and is holding a contest for both a logo and a motto advertising the Grayling area.

The contest, which begins on June 15, offers a $25 cash prize for the most original and appropriate logo and motto.

The motto should be extremely brief, two or three words preferably, and must include "Grayling." An example is Gaylord's motto, "Gaylord Naturally."

The logo should be a simple drawing, without much detail. Size is not important because it can be enlarged or reduced.

The contest for motto and logo is open to everyone, and ends on July 5th. Entries should be sent to the Grayling Area Visitors' Council, P.O. Box 217, Grayling 49738. The entries will be judged on July 10th by the council's board of directors, and the winner will be notified immediately.

The winning motto and logo will appear on all GAVC advertising. The GAVC Board of Directors election was held on February 27th, and the following persons were elected to serve on the first board: Dean Smith - Holiday Inn - President, Steve Sauter - Hospitality House - Vice-President, Mary Harland - Shoppenagon Hotel - Treasurer, and Kae Lund - Pointe North of Grayling - secretary. Associate members are: Judy Craft - North Country Lodge, and Gale Humes - Penrod's on the AuSable.

This board is responsible for determining how the revenue of the two percent room tax will be spent to promote Grayling. Area hotels and motels began collecting the room tax on March 1st.

"I really wanted to be on this committee," said Lund. "I wanted to be involved in the ground work," she said. "I've waited for something like this to happen since 1970, and it finally did."

To begin promoting Grayling the board has contracted for a 13 x 30

New Executive Director Joins Grayling Chamber

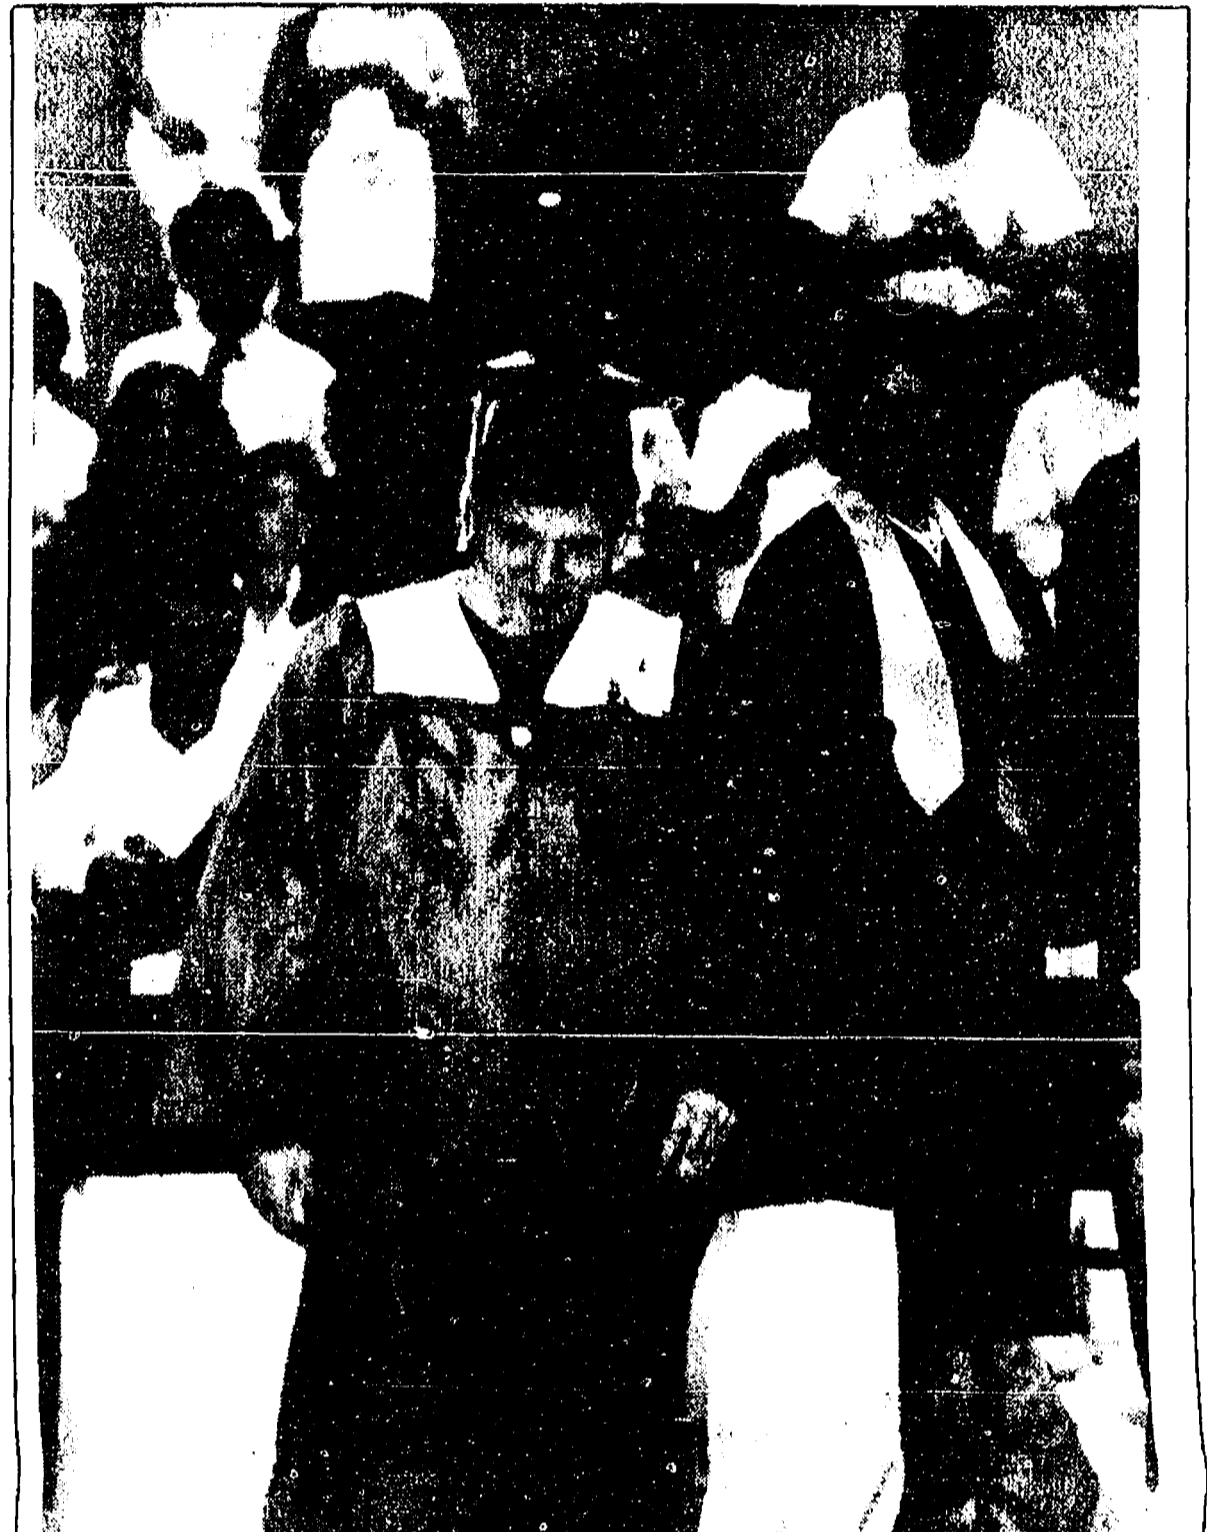

Deborah Barry has been named the new Executive Director for the Grayling Chamber of Commerce. A native of Pennsylvania, Barry was the Executive Vice President of the Clinton County Chamber of Commerce in Lock Haven.

Barry, with her fiancée, Mark Allen, of Clio, Mich., now reside in Grayling and have planned an October wedding in Flint. Barry holds a BS degree in Psychology and a minor in business from Millersville University in Lancaster, Penn., and has completed 26 credits toward a masters degree from Millersville University. Currently, Barry is serving as an Ensign in the United States Naval Reserve in Saginaw.

Barry began her duties at the Chamber Monday, June 5, and she said she had a very productive first week. Other than getting settled in

Toboggan Era Finally Ends at Hanson Hills

By LCpl. Afraimi

A small piece of Grayling quietly came to an end during the first week of June as Marines from Marine Wing Support Squadron-472 completed the demolition of "Hanson Hill's" legendary "Toboggan House." The demolition was the culmination of a 19-year effort to dismantle the facility.

In the early 1900's, winter sports activities were commanding an ever-growing number of adherents who would ride the special "Snow Trains" from Detroit, Chicago and other places to ride the "World's Fastest Toboggans."

The Hanson Hills Toboggan house was built in 1927 and quickly became one of Michigan's most popular tourist attractions. Sledders sometimes reached speeds of 70 miles per hour while rushing down the rolling hills.

The toboggan house prided itself as the only facility of its kind during the late sixties. However, in 1970, four sledgers collided with a dog that strayed in their path and one man lost his life. The house was soon shut down because of the inability to obtain insurance, thus ending the reign of the oldest and last remaining toboggan sledding facilities in America.

The considerable task of demolishing the grounds, due to the rough-cut reinforced concrete construction, was given to the Army National Guard at Camp Grayling. However, due to the unavailability of modern equipment and the hesitance to use high powered explosives, the Guard could only complete half the task, leaving the basement and its protruding area standing. The job was left incomplete for ten years until the Marines of MWSS-472 landed at Camp Grayling for their two-week Annual Training Duty.

Sgt. Kevin Bacon and Cpl. Greg Mink, both from Selfridge Air National Guard Base in Mt. Clemens, Michigan, completed the task in just two and a half days by using a caterpillar D76 bulldozer. They dismantled the walls of the structure and packed the basement with dirt, moving more than a quarter of a mile of dirt in the process.

Cpl. Mink, a pharmacy manager from Waterford, Michigan said: "the hardest part of the task was knocking down the rough-cut stone walls that were reinforced with steel rods".

The completion of the project not only solved a major safety hazard but also cleared the way for the construction of "Hanson Hill's" new skiing approaches. Sgt. Bacon said that the project not only benefited the local community but also provided us the Marines with invaluable training.

TOBOGGAN HOUSE GONE — An era was finally bulldozed under at the top of Hanson Hills.

with the daily routine at the Chamber, Barry had the opportunity to be a guest at the Grayling Promotional Association's luncheon meeting June 6 and on Wednesday, June 7, she was the guest of Chamber President William Carey at the Grayling Rotary luncheon. On Wednesday, June 14, Barry has planned a trip to the state Capitol to meet with local legislators and state Chamber representatives to establish and encourage a mutual support system for local small businesses and legislative concerns.

There will be a reception to welcome Barry to her new position as Executive Director for the Grayling Chamber on Thursday 5-7 p.m., June 15, at the Copper Kettle Lounge. The reception is open to Chamber member and their guests. Sponsors for the reception are Carlisle Paddle Company and Al Bennett Ford. Reservations are requested by Wednesday, June 14, and can be made by contacting the Chamber office at 348-2921.

ft. billboard sign to be placed 1½ miles south of the Wilder Road Exit in Bay City. The sign will face the south so that it will be seen by the northbound traffic. It should be in place sometime in July.

The board is also in the process of publishing its first brochure advertising where to stay while in Grayling, featuring Grayling's hotel and motel accommodations. This brochure should be ready by fall, and a second brochure, featuring area attractions, is in the planning stages, and should be ready by the winter season.

"The board has lots of ideas," said Craft, "some are the same, others are different, but everyone agreed that the brochures and the billboard are the most critical."

Lund said at first the board was going to hold off until September before it launched any promotion campaigns, but instead the council said, "Come on, let's get going," and work on the brochures and billboard began.

The next order of business for the GAVC Board is to meet with Chamber of Commerce representatives to iron-out how the two agencies can best cooperate with each other to benefit Grayling.

Opinions

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

Since there must be a first time for everything, I wondered when the first fatal auto accident occurred in Crawford County. Research with the county death records revealed the first death, where auto accident was listed as cause of death, was on November 16th, 1924. A lady named Arminta Stoner, aged 55 years, from New York, was our county's first victim of a traffic accident.

While doing research in the county death records, I was shocked by the number of deaths caused by trains in the early days. Either getting hit by the train was a favorite method of committing suicide, or those old trains were very dangerous to be around. There was a train wreck here, in Grayling, a little north of M-72 W. It happened on June 12th, 1923. An inexperienced switchman turned the switch the wrong way, running some cars they were switching out on the main line in front of the Cannonball passenger train. Three men in the engine cab were killed. They were the Engineer, Frank Ayres of Bay City (formerly from Grayling), Henry Floch, fireman, from Bay City, and Bernard Conklin, of Grayling. One must remember that in those days, there were a lot of trains passing through, and a lot of freight yard work going on here. Things are a lot different today, just one train once in a while, now.

Speaking of the County death records, it is very apparent that the Doctors, in the old days, did not have much education. The cause of death, listed in some cases, leaves you scratching your head. For instance, I found, "Stopped breathing", "Was ill", "Lack of Vitality", among many other odd causes of death. In those days, you didn't need much training before you could hang up your shingle. All you had to do, in most cases, was to study and work with a Doctor, until you knew as much as he did, in some cases, that wasn't very much.

My new book of poetry, "It Seems Like Only Yesterday", is hot off the press. Copies can be obtained by making a Ten dollar donation to the Crawford County Museum. All proceeds, from the sale of this book, go to support our local museum. Get your copy at the museum, or you can order by mail. Send check for Ten dollars or more, made out to Crawford County Museum, to Joe Murphy, 803 Maple, Grayling, MI. 49738. I will be happy to send you a copy. I will autograph it, on request. Let's pitch in and give the Museum a little help. It takes money to keep things going there. We can be very proud of what has been accomplished, so far, and with our help, much more will be possible in the future.

East-West struggle applauded

WHAT IN THE WORLD is going on out there in the world these days?

It's getting tough to keep up with all the developments on the diplomatic front, with Mikhail Gorbachev and George Bush seemingly trying to outdo each other in a quest for the Nobel Peace Prize.

Russian troops voluntarily withdrew from Afghanistan. That's surprising.

Elections in the Soviet Union are contested, and some outsiders actually win elections and take public office in Russia. That's really surprising.

And what's happening in Poland speaks for itself.

More recently, the Russian hierarchy agrees to take a new look at how the once-independent nations of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania became part of the Soviet Union.

To the fierce nationalists in these Baltic states — and even more so to the even fiercer partisans of Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia here in the United States and among other emigres — such a move nears miracle status.

ALMOST 50 YEARS ago now, the three Baltic nations came into the Soviet sphere. Russia has always claimed they joined the USSR voluntarily. Baltic nationalists claim they were pawns in a gigantic struggle between Russia and Nazi Germany and were bargained into communism as the Reds and the Nazis divided up Europe.

Now the Gorbachev regime has agreed to take a look at what really happened.

Maybe nothing will come of the study maybe it will be only window dressing and not a genuine investigation. But the fact that the Russians have even acknowledged the possibility of change is encouraging.

Obviously Mr. Gorbachev is ahead in the race of peaceful initiatives — at least on the surface.

BUT MR. BUSH will not be outdone. The Bush initiative to reduce the armed might of the NATO and Warsaw pacts has been hailed as an American master stroke in the intensifying struggle to reduce worldwide tensions and insulate flashpoints of international disagreement.

Mr. Bush indicates he will continue to push Mr. Gorbachev to prove his sincerity. Tear down the Berlin Wall, Mr. Gorbachev, if you really believe in peace, Mr. Bush has challenged.

Nothing other communist softening, Mr. Bush said: "Let Berlin be next."

"The Cold War began with the division of Europe. It can only end when Europe is whole," President Bush told a West Germany audience.

"Nowhere is the division between East and West seen more clearly than in Berlin. There, a brutal wall cuts neighbor from neighbor and brother from brother, and that wall stands as a monument to the failure of communism. It must come down."

President Bush is right, of course. And his open challenge to Mr. Gorbachev and his "glasnost" offensive is right on target.

With everything else that has been going on out in the world it just might happen. Let us all hope so.

These initiatives for peace — if that's really what they are — are the kind of East-West struggle that the whole world should applaud.

MORE CHANGES — The international scene is not the only front on which some unbelievable events are occurring.

It's moving into a considerably different sphere, of course, but consider a couple of other recent developments:

Michael J. Fox is now a father! That's right! The perpetual juvenile Michael is now a husband and father of a son. Now that's really promoting family ties. Where, oh where, have the years gone?

But wait there's more.

Not only is Michael J. Fox a father, Elvis Presley if, indeed he is still alive, as many of his most ardent fans still believe is now a grandfather! The daughter of Elvis and Priscilla now has a daughter of her own, which makes Elvis a grandfather.

Who can believe it? The hound dog certainly is no longer a pup, and Heartbreak Hotel has probably become a retirement center.

Yes, indeed where have the years gone?

Letters to the Editor

Disappointed at Coverage Of Beaver Creek Meeting

Letter to the editor:

I am very disappointed about the caliber of press coverage concerning the June 5th meeting at 3:30 p.m. in the Beaver Creek Twp. Hall. I do not feel that the staff at the Avalanche is trying to present sound and objective reports of the facts concerning the Georgia-Pacific formeldahyde expansion at their Beaver Creek Plant. My reasons stand as follows:

1. To my knowledge, there wasn't a reporter present at the June 5th meeting and yet the Avalanche article, by the very nature of its tone, let the reader assume that the Beaver Creek meeting was attended by a reporter from the Avalanche.

2. To prove the previous statement, I must point out that I had several area residents call me and ask why John Hartman voted against the abatement, when in fact, anyone that was present at the Beaver Creek meeting would know that John Hartman wasn't against the abatement, he wanted a longer ten year abatement and stated that fact at the meeting! In other words, the township board voted his issue down.

3. It appeared to those present that Joe Newman and John Hartman were trying to guess what the Crawford AuSable School Board and our Superintendent were to expect from the abatement situation. In other words, at one point in the meeting, it seemed as if Joe Newman and John Hartman were trying to represent the school board and the superintendent.

4. It should be noted that John Hartman read a statement from the Crawford County Board of Commissioners recanting their letter against the abatement for Georgia-Pacific and a new statement of support for the abatement was read by Hartman. Are the residents of this county to conclude from this action that a vote from the County Board of Commissioners is not a very secure vote?

5. To make this a fair and objective article of reporting, I should have been contacted as acting president of The AuSable Conservation Trust to present "The Trust's" side of this issue concerning the June 5th meeting and its outcome. The other area newspapers contact all the parties concerned, when it is not possible for a reporter to be present, and that is as it should be!

I realize this is a very complicated issue and we have no desire to cause 'bad feelings', but we are convinced that there is a very serious health problem in this community, and we are committed to finding the source of the high cancer mortality in this county and we would appreciate the full cooperation of the news media and the residents of this area to help us in this crucial endeavor.

That is why it is important to have complete and objective press coverage. The facts concerning this issue must be made known to all of the people in Crawford County so that they can decide in a fair and just way what should be done in order to protect the environment and their well-being. The issue of living with the consequences of a chemical company in our back yard might be life-threatening and that is why we must have the facts straight, and weigh every piece of information carefully. Hasty decisions make for very bad mistakes and in this case could cost lives!

Accident Demonstrates Disregard for Civilians by National Guard

Dear Editor:

On Saturday, June 10th, 1989, my wife and I were returning to our home in Lovells from a shopping trip to Grayling when our car was forced off the road, and into the ditch by an Ohio National Guard "Humvee" truck. We came to a stop three feet from the trees.

We probably should not have been in Grayling, since the heads of the County Government there have previously expressed their scorn and contempt for retired people like us, and claim we "have no economic ties to the community", but we were there regardless. But that is not the issue here. Your readers may want to know about our experience with this incident.

We were legally passing the Guard truck, when it suddenly turned left into us, without signalling, and struck our car with its left front tire. We almost made it, but not quite and, in trying to avoid a major smash up, into the ditch we went! But there is more to the story. The Guard driver told me that his turn signals weren't working, and later confirmed this with 1st Lt. Doug Dietz, a very professional Guard officer, who is also an Ohio policeman, who stopped to take charge of the situation. Lt. Dietz set up traffic control and started trying to contact the Co. Sheriff Dept.

The Ohio Guard could make ABSOLUTELY no radio contact with Camp Grayling, who could have expedited things, as Ohio was just pulling into range 30 & 40 after conveying up from their home base in St. Marys. So they asked several civilian passers-by to phone the Sheriff dept., who arrived 1 hour & 25 minutes after the accident to take over and make out an accident report. Lucky for us we weren't bleeding or we would have died while waiting.

As if to add to the problem, about 8 departing Guard soldiers, riding in a civilian pickup, started smarting off at my wife & me as we sat waiting at our car in the ditch. I challenged them, but they took off like a bunch of cowards. Strange that one 58 year old veteran could scare eight 20 year old punks away, but that is what happened out there on Co. Rd. 612.

What is really troubling about this is that the deputy did not issue a ticket to the Guard driver, who along with his faulty equipment caused this accident to happen. If things would have been the other way around, I'm sure I would have been ticketed, but not the Guard. So we are shown again who really counts in Crawford County.

But -- more importantly, the most troubling aspect is the almost TOTAL inability of the Guard to effectively deal with situations of this nature. It demonstrates very poor planning and disregard for civilians to have NO ABILITY to make radio contact with Camp Grayling at such a time as this. Granted, Ohio was just pulling in, but they should have had at least ONE radio capable of summoning aid from local authorities, but no way!

Further, to be pulling in on a Saturday afternoon during the busy civilian user season does not make a lot of sense. This could have been better done just after sunrise, but probably that would be inconvenient for the folks in Ohio, so there they were mixing it up with civilian traffic.

We saw more than 100 cars pass by as we waited for the deputy.

But, back to the scene for the end of the story. The deputy called a wrecker to pull us out of the ditch. That was done & the Guard went on about their business in the forest. I wish they had stayed around to pick up the tab for the wrecker, but not so.

So, 2 hours later and $35 poorer, my wife & I resumed our journey home in a car that may never be the same again. Like the car, I'm sure we won't either.

The songbirds around my part of the county aren't dumb like some of their country cousins. They take one look at our place with all the jack pines scattered around a few red pines and oaks, and they head down to the river where there is prime feeding habitat for them.

Besides the greater variety of plants and insects available along the river, the songbirds have also figured out there are more people along the river who like to fill up big bird feeders. We don't have a bird feeder in our yard although our cat has asked us several times to put one up.

We do have a few birds around -- black-capped chickadees, robins, blue jays, woodpeckers, cowbirds, sparrows, whip-poor-wills, and mourning doves -- but none of these would win a Grammy award for its singing.

When we first moved out to the woods, the black-capped chickadee was my favorite. Who in the state of Michigan doesn't like this friendly, tiny bird? I always liked the little guys because how many other birds do you hear chirping on a nasty 20-below morning in February?

During the second summer out at our place, a whip-poor-will introduced himself. Some people consider the whip-poor-will's long calling at night a nuisance, sort of like a wrist watch alarm ringing constantly. Around our place the whip-poor-will's call seems to blend in well with the other sounds from the woods at night. The first whip-poor-will we heard would start his calling around bedtime for the children. We would hear him start up calling in the west woods and then move to the large red pine in the back yard. There would be a pause and then his third stopping place would be on top of the house about 10 feet from the kids' second-story window.

About the fourth summer at our place, a bird with a long brown tail moved in. The bird's singing attracted my attention right away and I got out the bird book to find out its name.

Now, some bird experts will probably tell me there are dozens of better singers than the brown thrasher out there. But where I live, no other bird came close to its singing and the brown thrasher honestly amazed me at times. The bird, a little larger than a robin, would sit on the very top of an oak tree and sing a variety of notes. I could never detect a pattern and the music was fascinating.

Most often I would catch his act at night just as dusk was settling in and few other birds were singing. You know how relaxing it is on a hot summer evening to come home after work, kick your feet up, and have a cool drink? Listening to this bird was almost as relaxing.

I could be going out to the truck to drive to the basketball or tennis courts and that bird could just stop me right in my tracks for a few seconds.

I also caught his musical show a few times early in the morning at 5 or 5:30 a.m. when I used to leave to take the newspaper to Gaylord. I always told myself that some morning I'd get up at 5 a.m., when I didn't have to go anywhere, and I'd just listen to that bird for an hour. There's less traffic or human noise to interfere then, and the brown thrasher's morning music, from the bits and pieces I've heard, seemed even better than the evening songs.

For the last five years, I've been meaning to do it but that some morning never happen.

This spring, a brown thrasher started singing around our house, but something was different. The music wasn't as compelling and I could figure out patterns. When the bird started moving to other oaks, I could see it was a different brown thrasher. I've heard other brown thrashers since and they can't seem to even come close to singing like the one I knew.

You know, the few seconds or minutes I paused to listen to that certain brown thrasher over the years probably was enough time to enjoy the bird's songs. If I would have gotten up at 5 a.m. just to listen to the bird, I might have had my fill of its music after ten minutes and his special hold over me might have been worn out.

But I'm disappointed I didn't at least try it. One morning out of five summers -- I couldn't even make the time for one hour on one summer morning during five years.

I believe all of us learn enough during our lives to become very wise persons. However, the trouble is we forget most of what we learn. We promise not to lose our temper, not to jump to conclusions. We take someone close for granted, hurt them, and now we'll never do it again. We say we'll never let someone take advantage of us again. We pledge to take that extra minute to smell the roses, listen to the birds.

What happens? We usually forget the valuable lessons we learn and we screw up again and again. To err is human. But isn't it also human to learn? Why do we forget so easily what we've learned?

GPA Wants Businesses To Enter Floats in '89 Milltown Parade

Dear Friends of Grayling, The Grayling Promotional Association has again taken the sponsorship of the 1989 AuSable Milltown Festival Parade. We hope to make this years event even bigger and better than last year. Our theme this year is "The Sounds of Music". The date is July 29th - and the parade will begin at 3 p.m. sharp.

We have already received many confirmations, but we are really hoping for a big turnout of Grayling businesses and organizations. What better time for exposure to hundreds of local and out of town visitors than having an entry in the parade? Won't you think about joining us for Grayling's largest summer event? Starting now - with a little ingenuity, cooperation (and we admit - a little hard work), you could be ready for July 29th. Let's give Grayling a positive image. Let's show our own people, and our summer visitors - that Grayling is a place where people work together to make this community a great place to work and live. If you are interested in putting an entry in

Animal Shelter Needs To Be Enlarged

I don't know her name, but for lack of one, I'll call her Missy. She is such a gentle and sad looking girl who is looking for her family.

I don't know if she was abandoned or if someone lost her while on vacation. I first saw her on I-75 heading south in the north-bound lane just south of Gaylord. Six days later I saw her 3 miles East on 72. The next morning I found her on Wakeley Bridge.

We hope you will all think hard - and positively about this - and put an entry in the parade. We look forward to hearing from many of you.

Grayling Promotional Association Betty Bennett Rose Duley Donna Thomson Co-Chairpersons AuSable Milltown Festival Parade Committee

nothing in return will be destroyed.

I don't know if you have ever visited the Animal Shelter here in Grayling, but they are trying their best to do what they can to place these loveable animals who depend on man for their very existence. The shelter is now very cramped with many puppies, kittens and old dogs like Missy. I hope that some way can be found to find the money to enlarge this facility as it is not large enough for the area encompassing Crawford County. There is a fund now that is taking donations for this project and it is tax deductible.

Maybe someday a bill will be passed requiring all dogs except those raised for breeding purposes by those people who raise them for show or to keep the breed going will have to be spayed or neutered. Then maybe we will not have so many Missy and Rovers or Spots who have to be destroyed. It's hard to have to put your old and sick pet to sleep, but it is a shame to have to put a beautiful healthy and loving animal to sleep, simply because someone has become careless with them or just left them to fend for themselves.

I hope each and every pet owner who loves and considers his pet part of the family will think twice before they let that animal roam or stray to be found dead along the highway or wind up like Missy, alone and waiting for that familiar face or voice to come and take them home, where once they were loved and wanted.

F. Polgar Grayling

Addendum

On Thursday, June 8, the day Missy was to be put to sleep she was not at the shelter. She had escaped sometime during the night. Either something told her this was the day she had to move on or she had just become rested and had eaten enough that she felt she could go on with her quest.

As of this writing, she has not been found. We hope she has a safe and successful journey.

Seniors Receive Honors

To the Editor:
The Keepsake Edition in honor of the Senior Class of '89 was a tribute to this great group of students. I really want to put the Honors page in a correct order. Lori Dean received the Roy O. Milnes Award for "Best All Around Good Citizen of the Senior Class of '89", from Clara Sorenson who represented the Alumni. (The award was started in 1961.) Other presentations made were for the Scholarships Program. Carl W. Borchers Memorial Scholarships given to Lisa Mier, Janice LaDuke, Jacquita Bindschatel, Mark Hubbard, Margaret Joseph Memorial Scholarships given to Jeffrey Haas and Cheryl Klinger. GHS Alumni Scholarships (from member contributions) given to Lori Gust, Amy LaGrow, both 3rd generation graduates, and a special one given to Cheryl Barber, in remembrance of Fraser Dean, former Superintendent, deceased.

I am not President of the GHS Alumni Association...That office belongs to Bill Joseph. I have been president 3 times and now continue my work for all the many GHS Alumni as Membership Secretary.

Thank you,

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luter and children Robbie, Kathy and Hollie of Marshall arrived Friday to visit her parents, the Bob Strongs. Mr. Luter left Monday for Prudenville to attend Intermediate School District conference through Wednesday at the Johnson's Rustic Resort. The Luters plan to go to Alpena Sunday.

Those attending the graduation at Northern Michigan U., Marquette in which Lacey Stephan, Jr. received his B.S. degree included his parents, the Lacey Stephens, Sr., the Earl Mathewsons, the Norval Stephens, the Ralph Hannas of Traverse City, Mrs. John Knecht, Mrs. Toni Nielson and sons of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thayer.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Annis brought their daughter Anita home from Northwestern Michigan College, Traverse City, last Wednesday. On the weekend they took their daughter Irene back to Adrian College, and also visited the Wayne Jacksons and Mr. Walter Decker at Lake Odessa.

Guests of the Earl Longworths on Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Townsend of Marshall, and on Sunday the Wayne Clarks of Lansing, Mr. and Mrs. Theron Luft and Miss Dolly Luft of Traverse City (Miss Michigan Winter Sports).

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smock entertained with a buffet luncheon for their son Bob following graduation exercises at Grayling High School Wednesday of last week, with around forty friends and parents attending.

Miss Juliane Buron, daughter of the Tony Burons, has been promoted to Assistant Supervisor of the Coordinators for Eastern Airlines in Chicago and will supervise between twenty-five and thirty employees of the airline. Julianne began work with the company three years ago as a reservationist and has moved along steadily.

The Don Bobenmoyers entertained with a party in honor of their son Keith following class night exercises Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Thompson and children Bob and Nancy of Eaton Rapids spent Sunday and Monday in Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Millikin, Bob, Luella and Marcella, and Jana and John Ludeman left Friday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Morton Schiff (Connie) and family in Oak Park. They attended an open house for Chris Skingley and David Trailer at Lake Orion on Sunday.

Miss Karen Gothro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Gothro, graduated cum laude from Central Michigan University Saturday, June 11, receiving her Bachelor of Science degree in elementary education. Karen attended Grayling schools for 12 years, graduating from high school in 1962.

Gary G. Russell was graduated cum laude from Central Michigan University June 11th, and was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree. Gary also attended Grayling schools, graduating in 1962 from high school. Gary is the son of Mr. and Mrs. UHarley Russell.

Michael T. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, received his Bachelor of Science degree from Central Michigan University. He attended Grayling schools and graduated from Grayling High in 1961.

46 Years Ago
June 17, 1943

Mr. and Mrs. F.R. Welsh and daughters Gail and Nell left Friday for Santa Maria, Calif. to visit their son Tom who will receive his wings in the air service. After visiting other relatives there they will go to Denver, Colo. to see their son Robert, who is located at Lowry Field in the ground air service.

Dr. L.N. Allison, State Fish Pathologist, returned home after a week inspection at Baldwin, Paris and Harrietta hatcheries, Friday, June 11.

Ernest Jr. and Robert Bissonette of Grand Blanc are spending a couple of weeks camping at the City Tourist park and visiting their cousins the Hatfield boys.

Pvt. and Mrs. Francis Gross are happy over the arrival of an 8½ lb. son, Frank, Jr. born June 15th at Grayling Mercy Hospital. The baby's Dad is stationed in an Army Camp in the south. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith Wednesday morning, June 16th. Mrs. Smith was formerly Miss Emma Hendrickson. The little girl will be called Arlene Mae.

Dr. C.A. Canfield of Royal Oak spent the weekend at Lake Margrethe as guest of his brother, Frank.

69 Years Ago
June 17, 1920

Members of the graduating class of the Grayling schools were Margaret Insley, Oral Cameron, Marshall Holliday, Edna Taylor, Margaret Cassidy, Norma Johnson and Margrethe Nielsen.

Miss Eleanore Schumann left Tuesday for Hastings where she will join relatives and together they will leave for New York City. She will return in 10 days.

At Roosevelt Park in Detroit on May 25 under the auspices of the Conservation Com. of the Twentieth Century Club, five trees were planted in memory of Major E.E. Hartwick, who died in service while with the engineers on forestry duty in France.

Mr. and Mrs. A.E. Michelson and family will arrive from Detroit Saturday to spend the summer at Lake Margrethe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Landsberg entertained the latter's mother, Mrs. Rau of West Branch over Sunday.

Mrs. Hugh Kelley and three children of Grand Rapids are the guests at the homes of Thomas Cassidy and Louis Keseler.

HAPPY-GO-LUCKY -- Mindy is a 3-year old female pomeranian mix. She is housebroken and would be an excellent selection for adults or a family with older children.

24 From Crawford County Attend Special Olympics

SPECIAL OLYMPICS — Carrie Templeton, of Grayling, competes in the softball throw at CMU.

Twenty-four Crawford county Special Olympians were among the 3,000 participants at this year's Michigan Special Olympics Summer Games. The event was held at Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant on June 1-4. This annual event provides sports competition for mentally challenged men, women, and children. For the local athletes it was the realization of a goal which began 8 to 10 weeks ago when training began.

The local athletes competed for medals in track and field, weightlifting, gymnastics, bowling and wheelchair events. The track and field competitors were paced by Grayling's Dawn Whaley with 2 gold medals. Renee Gammon, also of Grayling, earned three medals in the track competition. Weightlifters Frank Schoen and Stacey Tacket each captured a bronze medal. The area gymnasts were led by Helen Milliken with a silver medal.

Other Crawford county athletes winning medals included Christopher Nowlin (track), Eric Sims (track), Malinda Skagerberg (track), Bill Small (track), Karen Strachen (bowling), Crystal Daniels (bowling), Gary Daniels (track), Tom Drouillard (bowling) and Jerry Harris (track).

The local athletes were sponsored on this trip by Area 4 Special Olympics. Donations from local businesses, service clubs and individuals were used to pay the costs.

ABWA Installs New Members

The Grayling Chapter of the American Business Women's Association held their regular meeting at Chief Shoppenagon's Hotel on Tuesday, May 16.

Cory Meach Dean and Grace Dopp Wegner were installed as new members. Pat Thomas was the vocational speaker with Opal Hamblin providing a Home Interiors demonstration. The recipients of ABWA's four academic scholarships were chosen.

The annual golf outing will be held at the Grayling Country Club on Friday, June 23. For more information on the golf outing, contact Karen Casler at 348-8823 or 348-9455, or Pauline Petroskey at 348-3011 or 348-2811.

Adult CPR Offered Here

An adult CPR course will be held at Mercy Hospital/Grayling on Wednesday, June 21, from 6 to 8 p.m. in the Riverside Room. This CPR program covers one person CPR, airway clearance and basic emergency procedures.

Any individual who would like to know how to perform CPR is invited. Class size is limited, so call today to register at 348-5461, ext. 368. The class is free, however a $5 fee will be charged to those individuals wishing to obtain a CPR certificate from the American Heart Association.

Grayling High Students Earn Fine Arts Awards

The sixth annual "Springtime in the Arts" program was held on May 10 in Grayling High School's Joseph Stripe Auditorium. The evening included several performances and presentations of awards to high school arts students.

The fine arts awards ceremony opened with a performance by the GHS Jazz Ensemble, under the direction of Dennis Ormsbee.

Director Ormsbee presented the prestigious Louis Armstrong Award, for outstanding jazz band member, to sophomore David Teddy. Dave was chosen by his fellow band members to receive the honor.

Art instructor Lynn Thompson presented certificates to outstanding art students: Leeann Bishop, Stephanie Boersma, Shannon Gizinski and Cheryl Willoughby. Senior artists honored this year were Kris Partello and Amy LaGrow.

Fourth year art student Amy LaGrow also designed the program cover for the fine arts ceremony.

Mrs. Thompson made her annual presentation of a student art work to the Crawford AuSable Board of Education. This year's work, which was painted by freshman Stephanie Boersma, will hang in the Board of Education office on Michigan Avenue.

Forensics coach Nancy Lemmen handed out first, second, third and fourth year participation pins to the members of the Individual Events team.

The final entertainment segment of the evening was a performance by the GHS Concert Band, conducted by Mr. Ormsbee.

With the assistance of Band Boosters president Kathleen Burkley, he then presented band participation and individual awards.

Senior Paul Baker received the Outstanding Service Award for his assistance and contributions to the band program.

Trophies for most improved band members went to: Jordan Stancell, freshman; Anna Hagemelster, sophomore; Kevin Austin, junior; and Lee Johnson, senior.

Awards for top musicians were given to Adam Anger, freshman; Jamie Petrie, sophomore; Kevin Austin, junior; and Tammy Fenton, senior, who was presented the coveted John Phillip Sousa Award.

Following the ceremony, a reception organized by the Band Boosters was held in the GHS cafeteria.

Teachers Gather For Annual Dinner

The Retired and 25-year staff members of the Crawford AuSable schools held their annual spring dinner on Saturday, June 3, 1989, at Weatherly's.

Katie communicated that former teacher, Inez Edson, had had a relapse from her meningitis.

Those attending were LeRoy and Marie Akers, Bob and Fay Bovee, LeRoy

Christian, Norm and Helen Feldhauser, Bob and Katie Funck, Floyd and Betty Millikin, Eunice Slusser, Joe and Faith Stripe, Jack and Aggie Trudgeon, and Bob and Betty Wargo.

The chicken and roast beef dinner with a salad bar was enjoyed by the group at 6 p.m. Following dinner, a short meeting conducted by committee member, Katie Funck, was held. It was voted that Katie should remain on the three-member committee for another year along with Bob Wargo and Art Thayer. It was decided that the dinner next year, 1990, will be held the weekend after Mother's Day in May an hour earlier at 5 p.m. and they will return to the Bovee residence where dinner will be catered.

10-Year Restoration Program Starting On Manistee

If the Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee has its way, the Manistee River will once again be teeming with trout, just waiting to strike at the angler's lure.

For this purpose, nearly $800,000 has been committed by members of the committee for a 10-year restoration program of erosion control, sediment removal and general stream improvement, with the ultimate goal: to achieve a self-sustaining trout population in the Upper Manistee.

The restoration committee was organized last February, and today consists of 13 federal, state and private agencies. Each agency is considered a partner in the restoration effort, and has agreed to combine its resources, whether technical and management skills, financial assistance, equipment, or manpower with the other partners to achieve the group's goals.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which includes Fisheries, Surface Water Quality, Land and Water Management, and Forest Management Divisions, has committed $500,000 over 10 years, subject to legislative appropriation. The DNR has also agreed to coordinate and expedite processing of required permits, approve site-treatment plans, assist in inspections, participate in erosion control efforts on state land, and conduct fishery surveys and research.

The Michigan Department of Military Affairs (DMA), has contributed $45,000 to repair stream-bank erosion and sediment removal projects in Portage Creek, that occurred during National Guard training activities.

Other contributions include

$1,000 from the Manistee River Association and $20,000 from the Upper Manistee River Association. The restoration committee anticipates contributions of $10,000 from both the Paul Young Chapter of Trout Unlimited, and the Michigan Fly Fishing Club of Detroit.

Richard Karsen of the Huron Pines Resource Conservation and Development Council, said that a special account has been established within the Huron Pines RC&D treasury to handle committee restoration funds.

Joe Kutkuhn, chairman, is currently working on a Manistee River master plan, which will be in agreement with the Department of Natural Resources' integrated watershed management plan concept. When completed, the master plan will be submitted to the DNR for approval.

The first restoration project for the summer of '89 will be to stabilize the banks at the Horse Camp crossing. According to Ben Butts, restoration committee partner, in addition to streambank erosion control, a crew from the Michigan Youth Corp will construct access steps for people, and a log access to the river for horses. The project will also include plantings along the banks for beautification. This project will begin sometime in June. Partners in the Upper Manistee River Restoration Committee include: DNR, DMA, U.S. Department of Agriculture - Soil Conservation Service, Michigan Council of Trout Unlimited, Crawford, Roscommon, Kalkaska and Otsego Soil and Water Conservation Districts, Crawford, Kalkaska and Otsego County Road Commissions, Huron Pines Resource Conservation and Development Council, Manistee River Association, and the Upper Manistee River Association.

TROUT PLANTED - Grayling Fish Hatchery workers planted trout May 27 in the East Branch Kid's Fishing Section. More trout will be planted the July 4th, Milltown, and Labor Day weekends. The Booster Club and Trout Unlimited pay for the trout.

MARINE CORPS - Private Joel Wegner, a 1988 GHS graduate, recently completed the combat engineer course at Camp Lejeune, North Carolina. He is the son of Grace Dopp Wegner, of Grayling.

Bits of Talk

On May 20th Mr. and Mrs. Donald Denton and Mr. Paul Calley attended the graduation of Shelly Denton from Ferris State University. Shelly started work at Warren, Mich., for Creative Universal on June 5th as a technical illustrator.

Also on May 5th, Don and Puff attended the graduation of their other daughter, Shawn, from Kirtland College, from the Cosmotology School. Shawn is currently working at "The Hair Station". She plans to go back to Kirtland in the pursuit of her Associate Degree in Applied Science, then transfer to Central Michigan University to get a bachelor degree in Business Marketing.

Mr. and Mrs. Mordean Post spent the week-end of June 4th in Big Rapids attending the graduation of their grandson, Jason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Post. The commencement was held at G. Mennen Williams Auditorium, Ferris State University. An open house was held at the Post residence for relatives. Those attending from Grayling were Mr. and Mrs. Dave McClain and daughter, Mrs. Doris Souders and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Post. On June 10th another open house was held at the Post residence for friends, neighbors, and classmates.

Leo and Helma Post were in Chicago last Friday, June 9, 1989, to attend the graduation of their granddaughter, Cindy Pippo. Cindy graduated from the University of Illinois at Chicago with a Bachelor of Science degree in medical records administration. She was the top graduate in her class, graduating with high honors. She will resume her education in order to obtain her master's degree. She is the daughter of Gary and Janet Pippo of Shawano, Wisconsin; they were also in attendance at her graduation.

The annual meeting of the AuSable Quilt Guild was held at the home of Joyce Vogelsberg on Wednesday, June 7. Thirty-eight attended the potluck lunch at the Lake Margrethe home. Officers for the coming year were installed. President is Jan Parker, treasurer is Barbara Potter and secretary is Joyce Vogelsberg. Mystery sisters for the past year were revealed and new mystery sisters for the coming year were given out.

Guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Grayling at Shoppenagon's on Monday noon, May 22, was A.J. Lambert of A T & T. He explained to the club members about the fiber optic cable which is being laid from Grayling west to Traverse City. The speaker at the meeting on Monday, May 29, was Eleanor West of Camp Quality, a hopeful camp for children which is held at the leased RLDS church camp at Boyne City.

Doug and Jo, Brian and Teresa Legg were here last weekend from Norway, Michigan to attend the graduation open house for Paul Baker at the Bakers' home on Saturday, June 10th. While here they stayed with her parents, Bill and Fay Gallagher.

Scott and Treasa Flick, son Tyler and daughter, Allie, of Hampton, Virginia, are in Grayling visiting the Chuck Flick family until Saturday.

Mickey and Bob Strong of Alpena spent the long Memorial Day weekend at the Owl's Roost on the AuSable. They visited his mother, Eva Strong. She has returned from the winter spent in Englewood, Florida. Enroute home, she visited with her granddaughters, Stephanie and Rob and Bobby Mock of Brighton and Kathryn, John and John Paul Stock of Rochester. Stephanie drove Eva to Standish where they were met by Bob Strong who brought his mother home.

Previous to returning to Grayling, Eva Strong flew to Houston, Texas, to visit her daughter and husband, Sandy and Bob Luter in Kingwood. The Luters moved to Houston in February.

D.A.R.E. PROGRAM - Kiwanis president Dwight Knasel gives Under-sheriff Tom Coors a check from the Kiwanis to help sponsor the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program presented to 5th graders.

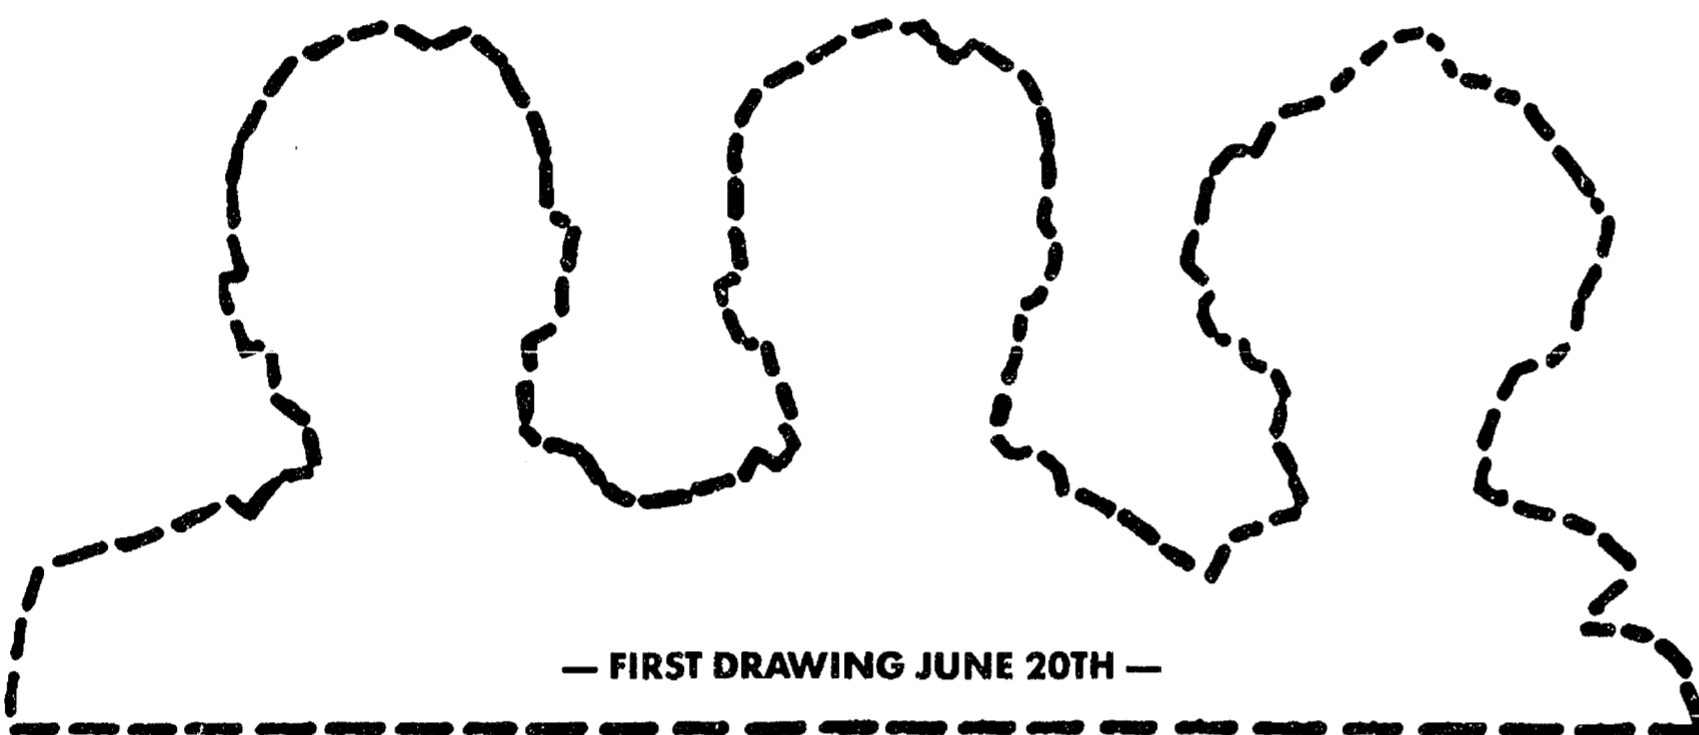

Still Time To Sign Up For 4-H Camp

There are still openings in 4-H Camp Kett. This year's camp will be held June 27-29 at Kettunen Center, a 4-H training facility near Cadillac. The cost of camp this year is $35 per child and is now open to any Crawford County youth between the ages of 8-12 (camper cannot turn 13 during this calendar year). This would be a great way to introduce your child to the fun of 4-H. For more information, please contact the Cooperative Extension Service at 348-2841 ext. 264.

GHS Band Continues Improvement at Festival

Twenty-five high school bands travelled to Grayling on April 28-29, when the Grayling High School Instrumental Music Department hosted the State Band Festival.

To be eligible for state level competition, bands and orchestras must have scored a I (superior) rating at their district festivals, held in February. The GHS band, which competed in addition to hosting the event, earned its I ranking at the District Festival held in Traverse City.

At the state competition, Grayling earned two I's and two II's from the panel of four judges, for an overall ranking of II. GHS band director Dennis Ormsbee called the ranking "very respectable. The state level of competition is very demanding and even being there is a big accomplishment for Grayling and a step in the right direction."

Ormsbee said that the "support of the band parents, families and friends was a real plus for the band. It was amazing to have the large support group."

He continued, "It was especially noticeable in the sight reading room, as there was not much room left after the band and audience entered the room."

Director Ormsbee also congratulated everyone who helped with the hosting duties. He remarked that the festival was "a huge success and a feather in the cap for Grayling."

Written comments from the panel of judges included, "a fine group," "the piece 'Dreams and Fancies' - I like it," "You are improving and on the right track," and "It was an enjoyment to hear you - Keep up the good work."

The GHS band will march in this summer's Milltown Festival Parade. Director Dennis Ormsbee, Grayling's "Mr. Music," has been chosen by the Grayling Professional Association to be the parade's grand marshal.

Kimball Earns LSSU Degree

Thomas L. Kimball, son of Susan and Thomas Kimball of Frederic, Michigan received a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology, with minors in Chemistry and Computer Science, at Lake Superior State University in May.

Kimball is a 1984 graduate of Rudyard Senior High School. At LSSU, he was active in the Association for Computing Machinery, of which he was co-chairman in 1988-89.

He plans to seek employment in the field of computer science and information systems.

Barkley Retires From Teledyne

After serving 11 years with Teledyne, 10 as Vice President of Purchasing, Allan Barkley retired April 21, 1989. Mr. Barkley has been working in the purchasing field for over 40 years with Chrysler, Brunswick and Bear Archery prior to Teledyne. Barkley, a native of Michigan, moved with his wife, Noralee and children, Melody and Fred to Mobile in 1978. He and Mrs. Barkley will remain in Mobile after his retirement, not only because they enjoy the area, but their only grandchild is here!

Barkley brought a lot of innovative ideas into the purchasing areas and was an excellent negotiator in pricing as well as being supportive and cooperative with management.

Men's Softball League

Scheer Motors remained undefeated by taking two games from previously unbeaten Weyerhaeuser. Scheer's won the opener 9-6, scoring four runs in the seventh inning. John Cottenghan hit a home run for Scheer's.

In the nightcap, Scheer's scored six runs in the first inning enroute to a 10-0 victory. Scheer's defense limited Weyerhaeuser to four hits.

Custom Forest Products chalked up it's first win of the season by beating Alma Painting 9-7.
John Nicholas hit a two run homer for Custom's and Randy Richardson hit a grand slam for Alma Painting.

Custom's took the nightcap 11-3 with Terry
Messerschmidt knocking in five runs. John Peterson hit a round tripper for Alma Painting.

Camp Lehman got in the win column with an 18-10 victory over Milltown Tool & Engineering.
Jay Reese and Keith Steele homered for Lehman and received hitting support from George Wood-fork-El and Don Forbes.

Camp Lehman took the second game 13-2 with Jay Reese hitting his second home run of the evening.

Weyerhaeuser scored eight runs in the sixth inning to squeak past Alma Painting 16-15.
Weyerhaeuser had to score two runs in the bottom half of the seventh inning to record the victory. Mike Zacny got the two-out game winning hit for Weyerhaeuser.

Camp AuSable Hosts Vacation Bible School

Children who enroll in the coming six day session of the Seventh-day Adventist Vacation Bible School, which begins June 19, will have as their theme "Jesus and Me".

In addition to studying the Bible, students will participate in group singing, stories, supervised games, and quality crafts. The school, to be held at Camp AuSable, has classes planned for kindergarten, primary and junior/teen age children, said Mrs. Myers, director of the camp.

There is no charge for enrollment in the school, and children should be accompanied by a parent on the first day, if possible.

Assisting in the direction of the Vacation Bible School program will be Arthur Myers, pastor of the local Adventist church. A staff of seven will also be on hand to see that things run smoothly.

"I am sorry that we cannot accommodate children under age 4," Mrs. Myers said.

For further information, phone 348-8384 or 348-2501.

The Gospel of John

Part #82

Christian Friendship
In John 15:12-14, Jesus Christ develops the great fruit of Christian love in our daily lives. Christian love and friendship is not a choice, but a command of God. "This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you." Perhaps the best commentary we could find on this verse is I John 3:16: "Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren."

This brings us to the second point of Christian friendship, Compassion. "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." (John 15:13). We observe here both the supremacy and sacrifice of divine love. Jesus Christ as eternal God did not face death as you and I would, because it is expected we will die. He died for you and me by deliberate choice. He died for us while we were enemies in rebellion against Him. (Romans 5:8). He died also a spiritual death as well as physical. He paid the full penalty for our sins including our eternal hell. Therefore, Christian friendship must involve loving compassion and sacrifice for others in God's family.

The third mark of Christian friendship is obedience to God's word. "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." (John 15:14). Christian love is not a matter of mere words, but of work. "My little children, let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth." (I John 3:18). Abraham was the first human called a friend of God. (II Chronicles 20:7 & Isaiah 41:8). We are reminded in James 2:23 that Abraham was declared righteous and called the Friend of God because He believed God's Word. God honored Abraham for his obedience. "For I know him, that he will command his children and his household after him, and they shall keep the way of the Lord, to do justice and judgment; that the Lord may bring upon Abraham that which he hath spoken of him." (Genesis 18:19).

Our Lord Jesus Christ proved His friendship for us by dying on the cross for our sins. We prove ourselves to be His friends by obeying His Word. Each person who names the name of Jesus Christ must consider the question, am I a friend to God? Mutual friendship is a two way street. God has proven His friendship to us for all eternity. How important to you is your friendship toward God? Once we share a mutual friendship with the God who died for us, we are in a position to share that friendship with others. Are you a friend of God? (Hear "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

Thank You

We wish to thank all our relatives and thoughtful friends for helping us through our sorrow. The flowers, cards, and babysitting or just a moment of expression was very much appreciated. A special thanks to the military personnel attending as Honor Guards.

A Father's Love

A father's love is one of life's greatest joys. Though a son or daughter grows up all too quickly, there are wonderful memories of many good times spent together.

Fathers deserve a national day of honor. Look how much they do for their families. They leave home early each morning and come back late, often tired. Their toll in the work places of the world provides shelter, food, clothes, education and a great deal of happiness.

Above all, a real father gives of himself to those he loves through his understanding, kindness, guidance and encouragement. Find strength in the love of our Heavenly Father.

Stancil Joins Lansing Ceremony

George Stancil of Grayling and Dhiraj Shah, Acting Commissioner of Insurance recently participated in ground breaking ceremonies in Lansing for the Independent Insurance Agents of Michigan. Stancil, co-owner of the Cornell Agency in Grayling, currently serves as Vice President for IIA. "The new building will be much more accessible to Independent Agent members and will provide room for additional growth in member services," said Stancil. The project is slated for completion sometime in September.

Commissioner Shah met with Stancil and other IIA leaders at the conclusion of the ceremonies to discuss a number of industry reforms recently proposed by the association, including adding a consumers, regulators and agents to rating organizations. The Independent Insurance Agents of Michigan (IIAM) is Michigan's largest organization of insurance agencies representing 1,200 agencies and 7,000 insurance professionals statewide.

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

I recently had the opportunity to talk to some Grayling High School students about the use and misuse of Off-Road Vehicles (ORVs). The discussion started out concerning the environmental impact of ORVs and soon moved on to the safety of these vehicles. As I left the school, I remembered wishing that I had done a better job of convincing the students that ORVs are dangerous, and with a feeling of concern, knowing that it was just a matter of time before someone got hurt. Then yesterday I heard that two young people from Grayling were killed and two other people injured in an ORV accident. Since then I have asked myself time and again: "Could I have done something more which might have prevented this accident?" I know I couldn't have, but doubts remain. I don't know what caused the accident, and it doesn't really matter. The only way that this tragedy makes any sense at all is if it convinces enough people that ORVs are not toys. They are extremely dangerous machines capable of high speeds and offering no protection. Whether it has two, three, four or more wheels, an ORV is an invitation to disaster. Please help prevent another deadly accident.

Strolling Around Town

By Fay Bovee

The brickwork in the downtown area is progressing well. It's exciting to see something new developing all of the time. We'll keep you informed as new things appear down there. Snooks Akers has planted the depot planters and if you local people haven't been to the Museum, plan to take a couple of hours and visit. They also need your financial support! Dr. Hough's dental office has his usual corner planted so that it can be plainly seen going out Michigan Avenue. Bev Lowrie has her flowers in, also seen from Michigan Avenue. The new dog grooming business in the former Drake home has a nice sign and they are cleaning up the yard. I am curious about the old Babbitt or Hunter or Morency home, whichever you prefer to call it. For those of you unfamiliar with it, it is the large home which is across from the hospital, more recently an office, and is a Sears Roebuck house. We keep hoping that someone might renovate it since it does have some historic value—I would hate to see it torn down. Please call 348-7017 if you have a business or place that you would like mentioned, either your own or someone else's.

To Two Very Special
People: Nick and Chad

Friends have gone,
to another place,
Who's left us with an empty space.

They touched our lives,
in that special way,
When they left us the other day.

If they were here - what would they say?
They'd want us to be happy to let go of the pain to always remember, and never forget.

This isn't a time for us to be sad;
But to remember the fun we all had.

Remember this:
they left together;
friends forever.

Shopping Today

To go shopping today is a lot different
Then it was in days of yore
Not many stores have clerks
To wait on you anymore.

It used to be you gave the clerk your list
When you went to the grocery store
They would fill your order
And have it delivered to your door.

Now you go in and grab a shopping cart
And go rushing up and down the aisle
Someone will bang you on the butt
If you stop to talk awhile.

You have to have a lot of coupons
Or more money than a king
If you are not a coupon shopper
You're paying too much for everything.

They have so many different brands
Of everything they have on hand
You always make a lot of mistakes
Of matching coupons to brand.

It would be nice to shop the old way
Not have to rush and scurry around
Fighting and clawing to get the bargains
Wondering where this or that can be found.

So if we ever go back to the good life
Where things were tranquil and slow
Along with a lot of fast food joints
Super markets would have to go.

Fresh Michigan asparagus is available now and there are so many delicious ways it can be used. Use it in an omelette, placing a thin slice of ham and several asparagus tips on the egg mixture before folding. Melt butter, add a little lemon juice and some chopped hard-cooked eggs and pour over the cooked vegetable. Serve it cold as a salad with a vinaigrette dressing. Make these little appetizers to serve hot with a cool drink.

Asparagus Morsels
1 loaf white sandwich bread
8 oz. cream cheese, softened
4 oz. bleu cheese
1 tbsp. mayonnaise
1 egg, beaten
16-18 spears asparagus, cooked
½ c. butter, melted

Trim crusts from bread and roll as flat as possible. Mix cheese, mayonnaise and egg until smooth and spread on bread slices. Place one asparagus spear on each slice, roll up and cut in thirds. Dip in melted butter and bake at 350° until golden brown.

Asparagus Cream Soup
1 tbsp. cornstarch
2 c. milk
2 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 chicken bouillon cube
1 c. asparagus, cook and chopped
salt and pepper to taste

Mix cornstarch and ½ c. milk until smooth. Stir in remaining milk and all other ingredients except asparagus. Bring to a boil, stirring, and boil 1 minute. Add asparagus. Two tbsp. sherry may be added if desired.

Asparagus Vichyssoise
1 lb. asparagus pieces
1 c. water
½ c. chopped onion
1 tsp. instant chicken bouillon

¾ c. potato flakes
1 c. cream
salt and pepper to taste
Cook asparagus until tender, then puree with small amount of liquid. In saucepan combine water, onion and bouillon. Bring to boil and simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in potato flakes. Add asparagus, cream and seasonings. Chill thoroughly. Serve topped with a dollop of sour cream and sprinkled with chives. The following recipe was a grand prize winner at the National Asparagus Festival.

Hawaiian Asparagus
2 c. asparagus pieces
1 medium onion, wedged, separated in strips
4 oz. cashew nuts
4 tbsp. butter or oil
1 can (16 oz.) unsweetened pineapple chunks, drained, reserve juice
2 tbsp. sugar
2 tsp. cornstarch
1 tbsp. lemon juice
½ c. raisins
pinch of salt

Combine pineapple juice, sugar, cornstarch and salt. Cook until thickened, stirring. Add lemon juice, pineapple and raisins; cover and keep warm. Stir-fry asparagus and onions in butter about 3 minutes or until tender crisp. Add cashews and pineapple sauce and serve over hot rice.

Other things that can be added to melted butter to serve over asparagus are toasted sesame seeds, toasted slivered almonds, chopped fresh dill or mint, chopped fresh basil.

GARDEN Outside Work Shouldn't Stop House Plant Care

If you're spending more time at the garden plot than inside these days, chances are your house plants feel a little neglected. To keep them green and healthy until next winter, when they'll be in the spotlight again, they need continued care.

The best way to keep indoor plants healthy is to use liquid fertilizer.

Follow manufacturer's directions when using a soluble brand of fertilizer. To use a dry garden-type fertilizer, dissolve one teaspoon in a quart of warm water, stir well and let it stand overnight before using. Use enough of the solution around well-established plants to wet the soil well.

Repot root-bound plants in a larger container. A good potting medium is a mixture of three parts loamy soil, two parts peat moss and one part coarse sand. Add to this mixture one cup of 20 percent superphosphate to each bushel of prepared soil. Bone meal may be substituted for the superphosphate.

Many house plants do better outside in the summer. If they are adapted to outdoor conditions, set them in the garden border, on porches or terraces. Sensitive specimens, such as African violets, should not be taken outside.

One way to shepherd many types of house plants through the summer is to bury them up to the rim of their containers in a choice outdoor site. A layer of gravel at each pot's base will assure good drainage.

Your Week Ahead Horoscope

Forecast Period: 6/18 - 6/24/89

ARIES
Mar. 21-Apr. 19
Recent developments bring out the important role distant relatives play in the shape of things yet to come.

TAURUS
Apr. 20-May 20
Don't be too surprised if a partner appears less than enthusiastic as you reveal another money making proposition.

GEMINI
May 21-June 20
Relationship matters are highlighted, and new light is shed on just where your priorities lie. Take the plunge.

CANCER
June 21-July 22
An important project on the job comes to a satisfactory conclusion. You will be amply rewarded for services rendered.

LEO
July 23-Aug. 22
Taking unnecessary risks stirs antagonism in one who wants what's best for you. Don't be a show off.

VIRGO
Aug. 23-Sept. 22
Recognition for a job well done brings praise from the big boss. The record looks good when promotion time rolls around.

LIBRA
Sept. 23-Oct. 22
You can be too candid and frank in sharing your beliefs with anyone who will listen.

PISCES
Feb. 19-Mar. 20
Career matters seem to take off in a new direction. Go with the flow. You are at a crossroads.

Guest Column

Barnie Engel

It is the time of year when all nature is in bloom. I spend as much time in the outdoors enjoying the beauties of nature, the gifts of God's handiwork.

I especially enjoy reading the stories in the paper about nature. I enjoy reading the Doodles from the Tall Timber for one reason I have known the author, Wendell Hoover, for many years. He is my friend. He is a scholar and an educated man in his line of work. He is a public servant doing his job for his fellow man. When I read about the culprit who had the guts to enter the area at Hartwick Pines State Park and steal the whistle from the steam engine that powers the saw mill that is operated during the Old Time Days. This act sours the milk of human kindness.

Those of us who have been public servants have realized what this act means to the crew at the park and the hundreds of people that come to the Park every year for this special occasion.

I can recall as a small boy in a country school when teacher took all the children for a walk through the woods and the fields in the spring. We walked by the brook, saw the birds in flight and the bees buzzing around the flowers. We came upon a robin's nest on a low hanging branch on a tree. As the youngster approached the nest, the teacher cautioned the child and said I have something to tell you. This mother robin is raising a family and you would not want to disturb her nest.

The teacher also said, in this big wide wonderful world with all the waters around it curled, do not meddle, do not touch little girl, little boy or the world will lose some of its joy.

Whoever you are, please return the little brass whistle. You will make many people, young and old very happy. I am sure God in his tender mercies will forgive you. Please.
